

Help us help our friends!

Merely two months after the coup d'état in April, the southern parts of Kyrgyzstan exploded in series of murders, rapes, destruction and the ensuing anarchy. Several hundreds of people lost their lives due to the conflict and an estimated half a million people fled their homes, mostly to neighbouring Uzbekistan. The conflict strikes especially hard at the nations children and youth, having lost their parents, home and safety.

Tamam has since earlier established good connections in Kyrgyzstan, especially in the violent area surrounding the country's second largest city, Osh. Together with the youth organisation Youth of Osh, Tamam is working with exchanges of experience, leadership courses and reception of volunteers in Sweden.

Now we need your help to able us to help children suffering from the conflict in southern Kyrgyzstan. In collaboration with Youth of Osh we will make sure the raised funds goes where they are most needed. Children and youth at risk are our top priority, but exactly what form the aid will take depends on how the situation in the country will evolve. Tamam is determined to do something for the young people being forced to live through this terrible conflict by creating safe meeting places filled with play and laughter.
